PRODUCT DESCRIPTION LONG

A sofa does not always need to spread out. Sometimes, it holds its shape. Designed by Anna von Schewen, Boxlike is defined by its compact footprint and clear structure, offering a supportive seating position within a carefully measured form.

Originally developed for public spaces, it is shaped by the idea of sitting well. Upright, composed, and balanced, it supports conversation, waiting, or simply being present.

The design is guided by strong lines and a distinct geometry. Straight edges and tight proportions give the sofa an architectural clarity, while the upholstery softens the expression and invites use. It is a balance between firmness and comfort, precision and ease.

Despite its modest size, Boxlike creates a defined place within a room. It works where space is considered, yet adapts easily to more relaxed settings. A sofa that does not seek to dominate, but to hold its position with quiet confidence.

Boxlike is available as a two- or three-seater.
